Through Sep 14
435-649-8882 | kimballartcenter.org

The exhibition “Step After Step” explores the evolution of walking as an art form, inviting viewers to reflect on how the simple act of walking can express political, personal and artistic meaning. In the late 1960s, as artists across the globe began to question the confines of the gallery and the commodification of the art object, a quiet revolution took shape—on foot. What began as a radical gesture against traditional media evolved into a profound artistic language: walking as art.

With nearly 600 ft of Weber River frontage, extraordinary mountain & river views and ever-present, soothing river sounds, it's a truly unique oasis. The home is on a secluded lane ending at BLM land, with 27+ acres in a wondrous, natural setting. Perched 30 feet above the river and floodplain, you'll enjoy amazing views along & down river. A stairs and path from the yard leads to a river's edge patio for fishing, kayaking or just relaxing with a drink & a book. Comprised of 5 separate parcels, there's potential for development of additional mountainside or mountaintop homes with sweeping views, up & down canyon. The home is meticulously built, with 2 x 6 framed & insulated construction, a split log veneer & features an 1100 square foot, wrap-around, covered deck, with an infrared grill and an outdoor gas fireplace, a perfect spot for your morning coffee or late night stargazing. The ground level, main floor showcases Great & dining rooms, a grand, lodge-style fireplace with a stunning Vermont Castings gas stove; and two bedrooms - the primary suite, boasts direct views of the river & mountains. Both main floor bedrooms have en-suite baths and open to the wrap around deck. Upstairs you'll find a spacious loft area, a full bath & an oversized bunk room. Downstairs is a large Great room featuring a surround sound theater area with gas insert, a second kitchen & pool table, along with three spacious bedrooms, cold storage & walkout access to the yard. The home has year-round access, custom cabinetry, an under-roof hot tub (no snow shoveling to enjoy the tub!), audio inside & out, fiber internet, three propane stoves, a dog wash, an outdoor fire pit, a large, detached garage for all your toys and is offered beautifully furnished & turn-key. This is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to own a secluded wilderness retreat on the Weber River, only 30 minutes from the Park City slopes!
